INTRODUCTION

This bibliography has been limited to books, cataloged government documents, and whole or special issues of periodicals on women in the University Libraries of the State University of New York at Albany.

The selection of items for inclusion in the bibliography has been as broad as possible except in the areas specified below. Books in the area of women's sports have been excluded except for those dealing with the formal physical education of women. These have been included in the education section. Technical books in the fields of obstetrics and gynecology have generally been excluded. Books on marriage and the family have been highly selected to include only those whose focal point is the relationship of women to marriage and the family.

In general, biographies of individual women have been omitted. Only biographies of individual women important to women's movements or individual biographies giving insight into women in a particular condition or profession have been included.

Literary works by women have been included only when they give a unique literary depiction of a particular type of woman.

The subject headings used in this bibliography are modified Library of Congress subject headings. Many books have been included in more than one section of the bibliography, but books have been listed only once within a section.

In general, only the latest edition of a book has been included in the bibliography. Exceptions have been made when the latest edition of a book is an abridgment of an earlier edition or when different editions of a book have had variant titles.

Personal and corporate author indexes have been included to assist the user of the bibliography.
